Nature's Expressions

Grouping our collections by 'Nature's expressions' gives us the opportunity to add an extra dimension to the collection's aesthetic. In this way, we draw connections between a certain collection and a unique expression of nature's artistry — from the dramatic to the subtle and everything in-between — imbuing our pieces with a wonder of the unseen, and taking our customers on a journey of discovery into the tales of the living world.

Threads of Nature

Dramatic designs and dynamic patterns

A collection that pays homage to the patterns we find in nature — motifs that nod to the complexity of nature as told by the interruptions of her artistry against otherwise smooth backdrops. Lightning against a dark sky, the jagged patterns of surf on a rough sea and interlacing branches of complex canopies. The pieces in the collection would all include a more dynamic or disruptive pattern rather than a subtle or flowing expression.

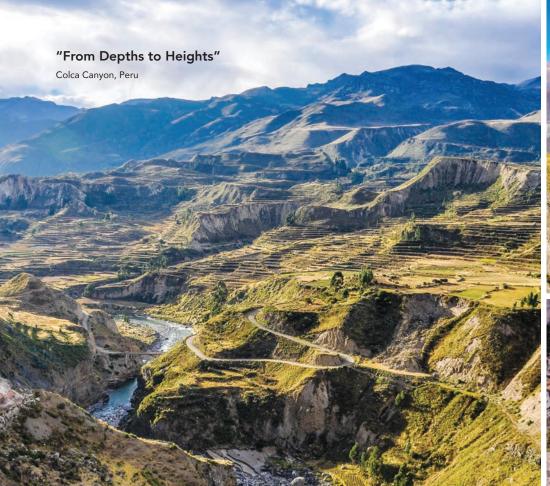

Amaranta v813

Calacatta marble-inspired quartz, featuring a white background with dynamic light grey and gold veining

Nestled in the heart of Peru, Colca Canyon stands as a testament to the awe-inspiring beauty of nature and the indomitable spirit of human endeavor. Carved by the relentless forces of time, this magnificent gorge stretches across the rugged landscape, reaching depths that challenge the limits of perception — inviting adventurers to step into a transformative realm of triumphant resilience and realized dreams.

Inspired by the warm sun bathing the canyon in golden hues, Amaranta's warm and cool veins capture the spectacular shadowplay of towering cliffs and cascading waterfalls that paint a mesmerizing canvas — where the condors gracefully soar amidst the vast expanse, and one can find solace and renewal.

Aurum v839

Calacatta marble-inspired quartz, featuring a white background with bold, dynamic gold and grey veining

In the glow of the setting Tuscan sun, rays of gold cascade through the once bustling city streets of Matera, Italy. Its peaked spires and steep winding roads of luminous stone are bathed in light before the sun sets. We recreate the scene of Matera's ancient city with Aurum's warm flowing veins that are set against a base of luminous light.

You can almost hear the distant church bell tolling, smell the fires glowing in hearths, feel the ethereal aura of a city bathed in twilight. Aurum's subtle but thick veins hark to Matera's winding roads. Warm hues set against a brilliant, clear base that brings luminosity to minimal designs. Pair it with rusts and golds, or find inspiration in bolder palettes for an unforgettable aesthetic.

Calithea V837

Calacatta marble-inspired quartz, featuring a white background with bold, dynamic brown, rust and grey veining

In Meteora, Greece, where towering cliffs rise skyward and ancient monasteries float in harmony with drifting clouds, Calithea draws its breath from this extraordinary meeting of earth and sky. Inspired by these sky-high pillars and mist-kissed realms, the design reflects the delicate strength of its namesake. Golden and smoky veins stretch across a luminous white base — like sunlight chasing shadow across weathered stone.

Calithea balances movement and stillness, clarity and depth, capturing the feeling of standing among soaring stone cathedrals carved by time. It invites airiness and quiet boldness into any space — creating interiors that feel both grounded and elevated. Rooted in nature's awe-inspiring architecture, Calithea speaks to design that lifts the eye, stirs the spirit, and captures timeless wonder.

Gilded Trace V828

Calacatta marble-inspired quartz, featuring a bright white background with dynamic taupe veining

A luminous white base sets the stage for soft, gold-toned veining that moves organically across the surface, like sunlight tracing the desert floor. Subtle yet striking, the design captures the balance between raw simplicity and refined luxury. Gilded Trace brings warmth, texture, and natural radiance to interiors — a surface meant to illuminate without overpowering, leaving an impression both timeless and beautifully understated.

Lakestone v827

Warm grey patterns flow subtly through the surface, grounding interiors in calm and connection. Lakestone transforms any space into a peaceful sanctuary — channeling the stillness of a lakeside morning or the rustic charm of Cumbria's fells. Rooted in tranquility and timeless beauty, it invites reflection and brings the serenity of the natural world indoors.

Lava Plain v810

Calacatta marble-inspired quartz, featuring a bright white background with bold, dynamic black veining

In western Iceland, the Barnafoss waterfall bursts from plains of ancient lava, where flurries of fresh fallen snow cover stone of the deepest onyx. When designing the patterns in Lava Plain, we set out to recreate this dramatic scene of flowing water and ancient stone, of cool white and bubbling aqua, of deep-set grooves, enriched with earth's pure minerals.

These are sweeping veins and a play of contrasts — defined, dramatic charcoal against a stark white background reimagine the feeling of standing at the peak of Barnafoss waterfall. Reveling in a scene that simultaneously feels ever moving and frozen in time. Lava Plain is a dramatic design that makes a statement in minimal spaces and scandiesque aesthetics. The perfect compliment to lush greens or pared back tones.

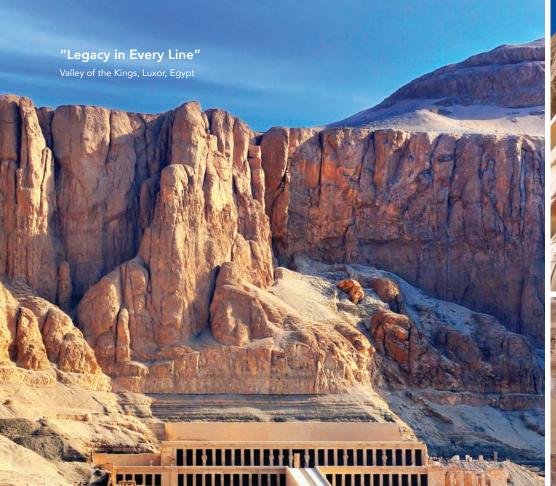

Luxor v836

Calacatta marble-inspired quartz, featuring a bright white background with bold, dynamic rust and grey veining

In the sacred sands of Egypt's Valley of the Kings, sun and stone meet in a landscape shaped by time, ritual, and enduring beauty. It's here, where golden light reflects off ancient walls and winds sweep across time-worn paths, that Luxor finds its inspiration. This design captures that history, with delicate veining that echoes carved hieroglyphs, shifting sands, and the textured layers of an ancient world.

Set against a luminous white backdrop, soft movement flows through the surface, enriched with rusty sunlit hues that feel both organic and timeless. Luxor brings a refined, storied presence to interiors—bridging the elegance of heritage with the clarity of modern design. More than a surface, Luxor is a tribute to artistry, craftsmanship, and the quiet power of place.

Sterling Light v804

Calacatta marble-inspired quartz, featuring a white background with dynamic light grey veining

We wanted to capture the play of shadows on South Styria's golden fields in Sterling Light's design. A backdrop of white tells of early morning rays and soft subtle veins, of the shadows of dawn and dusk playing across a patchwork of grooves and golden fields. Sterling Light invites you to explore its subtle patterns, and lose yourself in a perfect moment of fresh, sterling serenity.

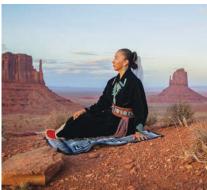

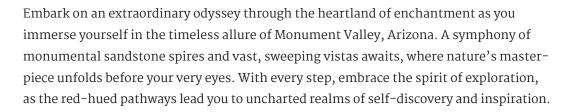

Sunrise Vista V812

Sunrise Vista beckons you to immerse yourself in its grandeur, inviting you to unlock the secrets of its storied past and create your own remarkable legacy in the present. Sprawling warm veining captures the play between the golden caress of the sun dancing upon the towering mesas, and the ethereal cast shadows that breathe life into this ancient land.

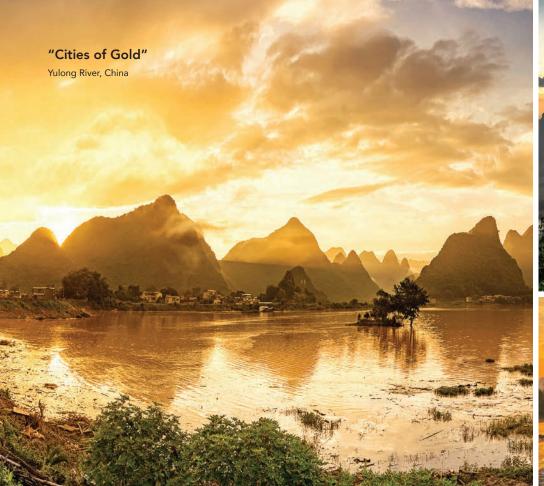

White Aurora v738

Calacatta marble-inspired quartz, featuring a white background with dynamic light grey and gold veining

We wanted to capture the golden mist of the Yulong River, China, as sunrise cloaks the valley in gilded sheets of brilliant amber. Articulating warm hues in swirling mist-like veins helped us illustrate the golden breath of rays, turning majestic mountain peaks into glowing silhouettes, and flowing waters into liquid gold.

We were inspired by sheets of light falling through the clouds, appearing like a gentle Aurora — a gift to those who pause for long enough to enjoy it. There's a playful stillness to the twisting valleys and kaleidoscope of shade across the horizon which we paint through dynamic shadows of subtle veins against a cloudy white surface. White Aurora brings the same wonder of the amber mist to your design inviting you to lose yourself in a golden pause.

Ebbs and Flows

Flowing lines and subtle contrasts found only in nature

Gentle, flowing patterns that nod to constant movement of the earth's elements. A dancing flame, a flurry of snowflakes, the ever-changing formation of desert dunes, the mesmerizing ebbs and flows of ocean tides and the patterns made on sandy beaches. Rather than a disruption, these fluid patterns inspire a sense of insatiable curiosity and everlasting transformation.

Calacatta Dorada v727

Marble-inspired quartz, featuring a white background with wispy taupe veining

Inspired by the soft windswept dunes of the Khali Desert, Calacatta Dorada sweeps waves of gentle veining across a luminous white background. Like the space between stars, the vast dune pockets of Abu Dhabi's Khali desert hold a sense of in-between, a space for imagination, for dreams and mirage as stretches of sand spin into infinity.

Shades of copper, red and gold undulate with the rise and fall of sand dunes, flowing in soft waves that sometimes appear alight, and other times sleeping in shade. Past and present, sky and sand merge into a capsule of space and possibility in Khali's ocean of shifting white sands and wispy soft waves. We designed this feeling of openness in subtle veins against brilliant white, so you can find it in your space.

Ecru Coast V829

Marble-inspired quartz, featuring a two-toned tan and white background with flowing taupe veining

Along Namibia's Skeleton Coast, golden dunes rise and fall like waves, cascading toward the Atlantic where sand and sea become one. It's a place shaped by contrast — rugged yet serene, untamed yet breathtakingly still. Ecru Coast draws from this rare meeting of earth and water, capturing its quiet beauty on a surface of soft, windswept tan hues and delicate taupe veining, reminiscent of shifting sands and the rhythmic pull of the tide.

Refined yet organic, Ecru Coast offers understated elegance with a natural, effortless presence. Its muted tones bring warmth and tranquility to any space, balancing texture with subtle movement. Perfect for interiors seeking calm and connection, this design brings the spirit of the Skeleton Coast indoors — where raw beauty meets quiet sophistication in perfect harmony.

Gossamer Sands v815

Marble-inspired quartz, featuring a bright white background with flowing light brown veining

As dawn breaks over White Sands National Park, the first light of day gently unveils the beauty of the dunes. Gossamer Sands captures this serene moment, where the pure white gypsum is touched by a warm golden glow, creating a landscape that is both stark and strikingly soft. The dunes, carved by the winds of time, roll like waves under the infinite desert sky.

Gossamer Sands' delicate light brown veins echo the interplay of sunlight and shade across the dunes, offering a design that speaks of both simplicity and complexity. It is an honorable tribute to the park's ability to stand majestic in its minimalism, and an invitation to bring the quietness of dawn's first light into any space, complementing interiors with a whisper of nature's untouched charm.

Mountain Veil V830

Calacatta marble-inspired quartz, featuring a white and grey background with flowing grey and rust veining

In the heart of Switzerland's Jungfrau region, where clouds drift between towering peaks and the stillness of snow meets the brilliance of alpine light, Mountain Veil begins its story. Here, nature moves with quiet strength — snowfall gathers in soft drapes, and melting ice carves elegant paths down stone ridges. Inspired by this serene, high-altitude beauty, Mountain Veil captures the ethereal calm of mountain landscapes.

Its luminous white base evokes the hushed stillness of early mountain mornings, while flowing silver and rust-toned veins move like glacial streams cascading through rugged terrain. Gentle hints of warmth emerge, like the first sunlight piercing through cool mist. Mountain Veil brings elevated calm and timeless grace to interiors — a surface that balances refinement with nature's quiet, enduring grandeur.

vadara' | Ebbs and Flows 49

Sand Weaver v745

Marble-inspired quartz, featuring a bright white background with flowing gold veining

Off the coast of Bazaruto Archipelago, a rush of surf surges across golden sands, weaving in ripples of gentle calm. As the tide rolls out, footprints of this timeless dance mark a patchwork on shimmering shores — depending on its mood, soft, blurred lines or powerful grooves of deep-set veins.

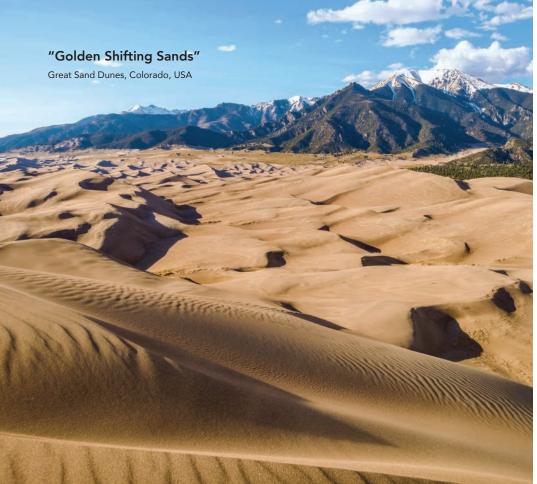

Inspired by the waves on the shores of Mozambique, Sand Weaver's stark white base and flowing veins whisper of golden moments and ripples of fresh, cool waves; a juxtaposition which blends the elements for a pared back, minimal aesthetic — a blank canvas for adventurous interiors. Sand Weaver's gentle, flowing veins and uncluttered clean base gives a sense of openness, space and light to your room.

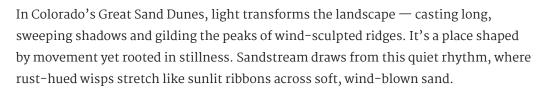

Sandstream v826

This design captures that fleeting motion, with long, delicate veining streaming across a warm, neutral base. Its palette of gentle contrasts and subtle texture reflects the slow choreography of nature — light playing over dunes, wind tracing new paths across ancient terrain. Sandstream brings a grounded fluidity to interior spaces, creating a sense of ease, openness, and quiet beauty. Whether paired with rustic materials or sleek, modern lines, it offers a surface that feels timeless, serene, and connected to nature.

Lorelei v824

Marble-inspired quartz, featuring a white background with diffused grey veining

In Germany's Rhine Valley, winter casts a quiet spell — where icy waters wind past frost-kissed cliffs and snow settles softly over the land. It's a landscape of serene beauty, where stillness feels expansive and every detail glimmers with quiet grace. Lorelei captures this enchanting scene, with a luminous white surface lightly flecked with soft grey texture, reminiscent of moonlight glistening across freshly fallen snow.

Elegant in its simplicity, Lorelei brings clarity, calm, and effortless brightness to interior spaces. More than a surface, Lorelei is a sensory experience — a tribute to winter's quiet poetry and the beauty found in stillness, simplicity, and nature at rest.

Polar White V822

Monochromatic quartz, featuring a solid, bright white background

High in the Swiss Alps' Engelberg Valley, winter transforms the peaks into a world of weightless silence. Snow smooths every surface, softening ridgelines and blanketing the mountains in pure white. The air thins, the light sharpens, and the landscape becomes a study in stillness. Polar White channels this alpine clarity — a surface unmarked by pattern, yet full of quiet depth.

Its luminous white finish recalls untouched snow at first light, serene and expansive. There are no distractions — only reflection, simplicity, and calm. In interiors, Polar White brings the same sense of elevation and breath, allowing light to move freely through the space. It offers a grounded stillness, like the hush of the Swiss Alps in winter — crisp, open, and endlessly clear.

vadara | Divine Natural Majesty 63

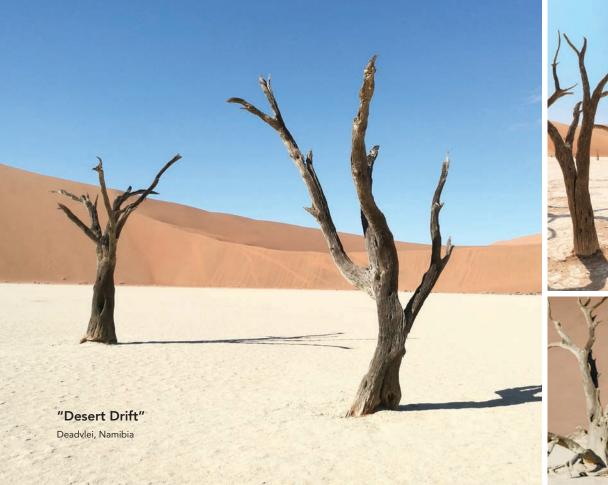

White Mirage V825

Marble-inspired quartz, featuring a two-toned white background with diffused grey and taupe veining

In Namibia's Deadvlei, time holds its breath. Once a thriving oasis, now a landscape of sun-bleached clay and ancient, petrified trees, it speaks in textures and tones rather than words. White Mirage is born of this quiet drama, with a soft, matte surface of grey and taupe that mirrors the pale earth and subtle tonal shifts of this iconic dry lakebed.

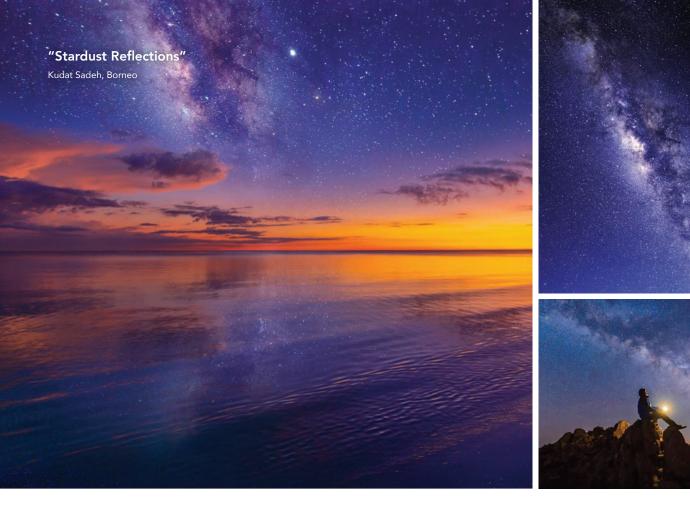

Its design evokes contrast and calm — delicate whisps drift across the surface like windswept sand. White Mirage offers versatility in both form and feeling, bringing serenity to minimal interiors or grounding in opposition to bolder compositions. With every line, it reflects nature's restraint and power, offering a surface shaped by stillness, space, and light. A tribute to the silent poetry of desert landscapes.

White Shimmer v823

Monochromatic quartz, featuring a granular white background with reflective particulates

Its bright white canvas mirrors the quiet power of starlight — unmarked, yet luminous. In interiors, White Shimmer offers expansion, breath, and calm. It reflects light with restraint, elevating a space through simplicity. Like the night sky over Borneo, it reminds us that beauty often lives in openness — in forms that don't compete, but quietly endure.

Lunara V833

Taj Mahal quartzite-inspired quartz, featuring a two-toned tan and white background with dynamic taupe veining

In the arid expanse of Chile's Valle de la Luna — the Valley of the Moon — the landscape feels almost suspended in time. Here, wind carves rock into fluid waves, and earth tones dissolve into the horizon, blurring the line between land and sky. Inspired by this surreal and silent terrain, Lunara captures the quiet poetry of the desert. Soft taupe veining flows like wind-sculpted ridges across a warm alabaster and taupe-toned background, evoking sunlit stone shaped by nature's slow artistry.

Ostara Dawn v743

Quartzite-inspired quartz, featuring a white background with delicate taupe and grey veining

The desert is never as enchanting, dynamic and playful as it is during the dance of sunrise. At Zabriskie Point, California, stark white sand dunes come to life as the first rays disperse night's shadows. There's a kind of poetry to the play of light across sculpted canyons and singing dunes, appearing to coax the sand from its long night's sleep.

We hope to bring this feeling of gentle awakening to Ostara Dawn through undulating drifts of threads across a brilliant white surface, exploring the movement of shadow across golden sand, the coolness of the air and brilliant flashes of morning light. Ostara Dawn invites you to explore the liminal beauty of a waking desert somewhere between the cloak of darkness and the fire of daylight sun.

Macchia Vecchia Calacatta marble-inspired quartz, featuring a white background with bold dynamic brown and rust veining

Penned into history by the author T.E Lawrence, a timeless description of Jordan's ancient rock formations in Wadi Rum describes hills that grow tall and sharp, towering for thousands of feet, with crabbs capped in a nest of domes. Ancient Byzantian architecture is mirrored in the shaded caves, towering peaks and deep red stone, tinged pink in the setting sun that once shone over the empires of the past.

Moon Valley's soft, off-white background and warm, wide veins tipped with gentle shades of rust and gold pay homage to this ethereal scene, lit by the luna glow — the still of the desert, the warmth of the sand and the luminous moon.
